

3rd and Church

Americana Music for the Discerning Listener.

A chance meeting by two old friends, Ian Thorpe and Dave Pollard, sparked a conversation about old times. Over 50 years earlier, as young teenagers, they would rush to complete their homework so they could then play their newly-acquired guitars and harmonise to classic songs.

A decision was made on the spot to recreate those days but, this time, they wished to create something very special by adding a third guitar player / vocalist. There was one person they knew would fit the bill perfectly, Duncan Peddie.

This time around, as a band, they would perform in public and go headlong down the road of Americana Music.

Named after a junction just off Lower Broadway in Nashville, Tennessee, 3rd and Church are inspired by the music of Crosby, Stills and Nash, The Eagles, Linda Ronstadt and Johnny Cash. Playing a mixture of acoustic instruments complemented by 3-part vocal harmonies, 3rd and Church cover a wide range of Americana Music by many different artistes.

The line-up;

Duncan Peddie- Guitar, Ukulele, Banjo, Vocals

Dave Pollard – Bass, Guitar, Vocals

Ian Thorpe – Guitar, Mandolin, Vocals

Americana- Definition
